CENSUS OF POPULATION, 1971

EXPLANATORY NOTES

This Volume of the Report of the Census of Population, 1971, contains detailed classifications by religious denomination of the population of the State.

The Census was taken on the night of 18th April, 1971 in accordance with the Statistics (Census of Population) Order, 1971 (S.I. No. 93 of 1971) made by the Taoiseach in pursuance of powers conferred on him by Sub-section (1) of Section 16 of the Statistics Act, 1926 and the Statistics Acts, 1926 and 1946 (Transfer of Ministerial Functions) Order, 1949 (S.I. No. 142 of 1949).

INFORMATION COLLECTED

The following particulars were collected in respect of each individual - (i) Name, (ii) sex, (iii) relationship to head of household, (iv) usual residence, (v) usual residence one year prior to Census date, (vi) place of birth, (vii) date of birth, (viii) conjugal condition, (ix) date of marriage and number of children (for married women only), (x) religion, (xi) knowledge of Irish (for persons 3 years of age and over), (xii) method of transport and distance travelled to work or school and for persons aged 14 years or over. - (xiii) principal occupation, (xiv) employment status, (xv) name of employer and nature of employer's business, (xvi) age at which full-time education ended and number of years' attendance at school or college, etc. (for persons who had ceased their full-time education), (xvii) scientific or technological qualifications held and fields of science concerned. In addition the following information was collected in respect of each private household - (i) total area and rateable valuation of agricultural holdings held by members of the household, (ii) nature of occupancy of dwelling (rented, owner-occupied, etc.), (iii) rent of dwelling, (iv) year house was built, (v) rooms occupied, (vi) type of water supply, (vii) availability of bath or shower, (viii) type of sanitary facility, (ix) electricity supply and (x) motor vehicles used by household.

COVERAGE OF THE CENSUS

The Census figures relate to the de facto population, that is to say the population recorded for each area represents the total of all persons present within its boundaries on the night of Sunday, 18th April, 1971, together with all persons who arrived in that area on the morning of Monday, 19th April, 1971, not having been enumerated elsewhere. Persons on board ships in port are included with the population of adjacent areas. The figures, therefore, include visitors present on Census night as well as residents while Irish persons temporarily absent from the State are excluded. The date of the Census was, however, chosen to coincide with a period when passenger movements were at a minimum and consequently the figures closely approximate to those for the usually resident population. Members of the Defence Forces who, on Census date, were serving abroad with the United Nations were, of course, excluded from the enumeration.

CLASSIFICATION BY RELIGION

The column on the Census schedule in which information on this topic was furnished was headed "Religion - state particular denomination" and no further notes or instructions were given. The Census Enumerators were instructed not to insist on the completion of this section of the form in cases where householders were reluctant to give the required information. This was similar to the instruction given at the 1961 Census of Population, the most recent previous Census at which a question on religion was included on the Census schedule. The number of persons for whom no information was supplied was 46,648 as compared with 5,625 in 1961. Classifications are given in respect of the following religious denominations - Catholic, Church of Ireland (including Anglican and Church of England), Presbyterian, Methodist and Jewish.

CLASSIFICATION BY OCCUPATION

All persons aged 14 years and over, including those who are out of work and those who are temporarily confined to hospitals, are classified to their usual principal occupation.

Occupations are divided into two broad categories, gainful and non-gainful, a gainful occupation being one in which the person is actively engaged and from which the livelihood is usually obtained. Persons in certain occupations who do not receive a fixed wage or salary are, however, also classified as gainfully occupied, the principal group of persons in this category being those assisting relatives in farm work. Persons engaged in home duties, persons at school, students, persons not yet at work and retired persons comprise the majority of the not gainfully occupied group. The occupation in the case of a gainfully occupied person, is determined by the kind of work performed in earning a living irrespective of the place in which, and the purpose for which, it is performed. Classification of the population by occupation thus brings together the numbers of persons engaged in the same type of work regardless of the purpose for which such work is undertaken.

The most detailed occupation classification used in the 1971 Census of Population is that shown in Appendix A.

CONTENT OF THE TABLES

In general, the content and layout of the present Volume is similar to that of the corresponding Volume of the 1961 Census. However, persons who stated that they had no religion or for whom no information was supplied are shown separately in all Tables except in Table 9 where they are combined. Table 1A shows the number of persons of each religious denomination at each Census of Population since 1881 at which a question on this topic was included while Table 1B shows the percentage changes in these numbers in the intercensal periods. Table 2 provides similar information to Table 1A for each Province and County while Table 3, for Provinces only, gives a classification for males and females in 1971. Table 4 distinguishes the Aggregate Town Area and Aggregate Rural Area of each Province while Table 5 is concerned with types of district, that is County Boroughs, various town size groupings, etc. Each of these tables show the number of persons of each religion in 1971.

The number of persons of each religion in each Province, County and County Borough in 1971 is shown in Table 6A while Table 6B shows the percentage changes between 1961 and 1971. Males and females are classified by religion, distinguishing Catholic and Church of Ireland only, for Rural Districts and towns with legally defined boundaries in Table 7. Other areas for which information is provided in this table are environs of towns with legally defined boundaries and towns without legally defined boundaries having a population of 1,500 or over in 1971.

Table 8 classifies persons of each religion by age group and conjugal condition while Table 9 provides a similar classification for males and females in each Province, County and County Borough, distinguishing Catholic and Church of Ireland only. Tables 10A and 10B provide information on males and females in each occupational group classified by religion with Catholic and Church of Ireland being distinguished in this case also.

COMMENTARY

CHANGES, 1961-1971

Table A below contains the basic Census information on Religion for 1971 and 1961 (the most recent Census year prior to 1971 for which information on religion was collected). Whereas total population increased over this period from 2,818,341 to 2,978,248 (a rise of 5.7 percent), the number of persons returned as Catholics increased by 122,193 from 2,673,473 to 2,795,666 (a rise of 4.6 percent) while the number of persons who were returned as belonging to other specific religions declined by 9,818 from 138,136 in 1961 to 128,318 in 1971 (a fall of 7.1 percent). The number of persons with "No religion" rose from 1,107 to 7,616 over this period. In interpreting these figures it must be borne in mind that the very large increase in the number of persons in respect of whom no information on religion was given in 1971 (46,648 as against only 5,625 in 1961) may have influenced the trends for individual religions to a significant extent. Indeed this qualification should be kept in mind in interpreting all Tables which involve comparisons between 1961 and 1971!

* Calculated excluding the "No information supplied" group.

The figures for 1961 and 1971, given in Table A, show also the percentage distribution in those years of persons who supplied information on religion. There was very little change between 1961 and 1971 in the proportion of persons in each religion when calculated excluding those for whom no information on religion was supplied. In both years, Catholics formed 95 percent of the total with the proportion in the Church of Ireland falling from 3.7 percent in 1961 to 3.3 percent in 1971. No other religion formed more than 1 percent of the total.

TABLES

REGIONAL DIFFERENCES

Table B shows the distribution of the population by religious denomination in the different Planning Regions. The composition of the Planning Regions is shown in Appendix B.

The highest proportions of Catholics, with 96.0 percent or more, were in the West, Mid-West and South-East regions. The lowest proportion, 86.1 percent, was in Donegal with the North-East and East, at 91.4 and 91.6 percent, respectively, being next lowest. These regions also contained the highest proportions of members of the Church of Ireland, the proportion being 6.3 percent in Donegal, 4.6 percent in the North-East and 4.3 percent in the East, the same percentage as in the North-West. There were two regions where Presbyterians formed more than 1 percent of the total, these being Donegal (5.6 percent) and the North-East (2.4 percent). No other religion, in any other region, formed more than 1 percent of the total. Information was not returned for 1.6 percent of the total population. This proportion was highest in the East region at 2.3 percent.

AGE GROUPS

The changes between 1961 and 1971 in the numbers in various age groups are described in Table C. Specified religions other than Catholic are grouped together in this table.

The changes in the overall totals in each age group are reflected in the corresponding changes in numbers of Catholics, as would be expected in view of the fact that Catholics formed 93.9 percent of the total population. In the case of the combined other specified religions shown in this table, there were reductions in the numbers in each age group except the 15-24 and 25-34 year groups which showed increases of 2.8 percent and 5.6 percent, respectively. These, however, were in age groups where the total population rose by 23.3 percent and 8.8 percent respectively. Very substantial decreases, ranging from about 5 to 20 percent, were recorded for these religions in the age groups over 35 years.

These changes, however, reflect to a large extent the population structure of persons with these religions. For example, persons with other specified religions aged 35-44 years in 1971 numbered 13,459 as compared with 16,561 in 1961. However, the same group of persons in 1961, who were then aged 25-34 years, numbered 13,731. Thus the reduction of 18.7 percent in the 35-44 age group between 1961 and 1971 can be seen to be a result of the population structure as it existed in 1961.

The increase in the number of persons stating that they had no religion was substantial in all age groups with the largest increase in percentage terms being in the under 35 year age group where the numbers rose from 561 in 1961 to 5,022 ten years later, a nine fold increase approximately. The number of persons aged 35 years and over in this group increased from 546 to 2,594 over the same period. As indicated previously the number of persons supplying no information increased very substantially, this pattern applying in all age groups.

TABLE D:- PERSONS IN EACH AGE GROUP AS A PERCENTAGE OF THE TOTAL POPULATION OF EACH RELIGION, 1961 AND 1971.

	1971	100.-	32.4	16.5	11.2	10.3	9.8	8.7	11.1

In the case of Catholics, persons aged under 25 years of age formed 48.0 percent of the total in 1971. This compares with 34.9 percent of those with other stated religions, 40.2 percent of those returned as "No religion" and 48.9 percent of those who did not supply any information on religion. When the age group 25-54 years is considered, 31.6 percent of Catholics were in this group as compared with 34.0 percent of those with other stated religions. Persons stating that they had "No religion" were most heavily concentrated in the 15-34 year age group, which contained 46.9 percent of this group, whereas only 27.1 percent of the total population fall into this age category.

Persons aged 55 years and over formed 20.3 percent of the Catholic population and 31.1 percent of the population with other stated religions but only 12.3 percent of those with "No religion" were in this age group. The age distribution of persons who did not give any information on religion is very close to that of the overall population.

When the age distributions in 1961 and 1971 are compared, the only significant changes in the case of Catholics occurred in the 15-24 and 35-54 year age group with the former age group containing 16.3 percent of the total in 1971 as compared with 14.0 percent in 1961 and the proportion in the latter group being 20.8 percent in 1971 as against 23.6 percent ten years previously.
